From The London Times, July 11.

The "strategical motives" which have led a general to retire, after an attack of the enemy, from a position which he had occupied in order to make an assault upon his capital, are parely unintelligible. It is quite obvious that a retrograde movement on the part of a besieging army means an untenable position, a confession of weakness, a measure of safety.

Complaints likewise, it is a most wonderful remedy. The large number of orders received from persons who have been cured by using this Compound shows in what high esteem the medicine is heid by them.

Its great value as a Specific for Kidney Diseases was fortunately ascertained by a person who took it for a cough. The cough was actirely removed, and also a severe inflammation
